days of airwairy,
of how days of dairwairy,
days days of his degree,
When languid maid, in rich brocade,
of sealant youth who played the future

of agend down from the rich stringed guitar
And sang as lovers sing;
off, my ladys is faire beyond compare."
Ker-plinkerty-plunkerty-pling,
Ker-plinkerty-plunkerty-pling,
MI sing a law of the present day.
Of a outfailed retreat and a cushioned sea
And my datelling's happy face.
Laing of youth and love and truth,
And hearts in sweet attune.
And hearts in sweet attune,
And hearts in sweet attune,
And are bailing as weet attune,
And are bailing as well as Juno,
No need have I to pine and sigh,
Waft am 'rous notes from afar,
No toplusk an old guitar.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES.

Vote of the Ninth Congressional District for President and of the Ninth Congressional District for President and Congressman in 1892, and Vote of the Counties in the Counties in the Counties Congressional Convention to Be Held at Augusta and returned Monday morning. June 15th.

Below will be found some figures which are highly interesting at the preressman in 1892, with the majority in each county for the respective candidates.

To the Presidential vote is appended the vote of each county in the coming Convention to be held at Augusta, based upon one vote for each 50 votes and one vote for each fraction over 25 votes cast for Benjamin Harrison in 1892-as lirected by the Congressional Committee at its recent session in this city.

In the Congressional race R. H. Yantis received 713 votes, which are of inquiry were to be sent to manufac turers and business men asking for expert information in regard to the effect of proposed Tariff changes. Democratic organs all over the country enthusiastically praised this scheme as a great advance over the tedious process of verbal hearings, and "pointed with pride" to it as an evidence that the Democratic leaders proposed to secure the fullest knowledge regarding every schedule be-

The circulars were malled—or at least a pretense of mailing them was made—but the replies which, according to Democratic pledges were to be promptly published, have not seen the light. In the Senate a few days ago Mr. Lonez asked why these answers had not been printed. Senator Vext, whose discretion is by no means equal to his pugnacity, was means equal to his pugnacity, was goaded by the incisive remarks of the Massachusetts Senator into admitting that they had been suppressed because they were "offensive." Tactics of this sort, says The Press of New York, will surprise nobody. From the beginning the Democratic Tariff Bill has been steeped in deceit and trickery.

The devices to which its supporters have resorted have been on a par with the shameless falsehoods through which the Democratic party gained control of the Government. The longer the bill has en before Congress the more corrupt it s become. In its present form it is largely the product of gigantic trusts, that have purchased licenses to plunder the people by methods which cannot be the people by methods which cannot be hidden much longer. The jobbery and dishonesty of the measure are as promi-nent as its bitter hostility to American interests.
